The Year 1934 Will Be Prosperous and Peaceful

The Famous French Clear-Voy-ant Has Predicted that a King will Regain His Throne

Paris, Dec. 28.—Madam Blanche de Pannac, the extraordinary French Prophetess, to-day sent out from her silent Xmas annals the prediction that the New Year will be filled with peace and prosperity.

According to Madam de Pannac, next September will mark a new era of great prosperity in the United States which would affect the whole world. The supremacy of Hitler would continue throughout the entire year but would crumble in 1935. There would be no political revolutions in 1934; a famous German general and two members of the French Estate would die during the year. A king would regain his throne, France would bear the brunt of a mysterious serial catastrophe and Germany would bear that of a marine catastrophe. No king would be dethroned and, generally speaking, peace would reign throughout the world. France, England and Italy would learn to understand each other and Lindbergh would have a successful year.

Madam de Pannac made herself famous in 1918 by predicting that the Armistice would be signed on November 11th, 1918.

The Juniors held their annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rubbelke on January 6th. Election of officers took place. Fred Mallett was elected President, Agnes Rubbelke Vice President, Louise Rubbelke Treasurer and Pearl Sol Secretary.

The debate for this meeting was, "Resolved that the Fashions of Today Should Go Back to the Fashions of Sixteen Hundred." The judges experienced considerable difficulty in deciding the winners, the points being so even. They finally decided the negative had won.

The meeting was closed by singing "God Save the King." A delicious lunch was then served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallett are Calgary visitors this week.

Pat Kingsmith is recovering from his operation in the Basano Hospital for appendicitis.

Cardinals 2; Miners 1

The Arrowwood Cardinals again distinguished themselves when they won their third successive game of the season by defeating the Indian Miners, by a score of 2-1, in the Gleichen rink last Friday night.

Throughout the first period the game was slow, due to the sticky and dusty ice. However, the Miners scored on a golf shot, when Tom Studhorse took a swing at the puck in front of the Arrowwood goal. He was assisted by Sam Orl Child.

During the second period the dynamic left wing (Norton) scored for Arrowwood on an open shot. This greatly increased the interest of the game and from the face-off the Cardinals were constantly peppering the Miners' goal. The remainder of the period was taken up in continual raids on the forward and defence lines of both teams.

From the face-off in the third period, considerable excitement was aroused by the efforts of each team to break the tie. The (Continued on page 4)

Another year in this old world's history has been ushered in, bringing with it the usual longings and hopes that it will prove a better, happier year than its predecessor, and also falling heir to the problems remaining unsolved as the old year closed.

The new year opened with conditions prevailing which give rise to mixed feelings of hope and despair, of confidence and a lack of it, of encouragement and discouragement, but a study and weighing of these conditions reveal that the more hopeful aspect of things over-shadows and outweighs the less encouraging.

Despite all the rumors and threats of war, coupled with the failure—temporary let us hope—of the disarmament conference, peace among the great nations of the world was maintained throughout the past year. This in itself is encouraging and much to be thankful for when we recall the coming in of a new year less than two decades ago with millions of men engaged in conflict.

Equally encouraging is the fact that the foremost statements of the world are striving as never before to maintain peace among the nations, and to create and develop relationships which will operate to make such peace a permanent condition, rather than something very precarious and liable to destruction upon the slightest provocation.

The new year fell heir to the depression which began to sweep the world in the late months of 1929 and continued for four years with steadily increasing severity. Notwithstanding the fact that the depression continues, signs were not lacking as the old year closed that definite improvements were taking place, and that many factors were coming into play which would have a decided effect in promoting and greatly extending such improvements. Business in general is showing signs of recovery, and Canada included, is better and on the upgrade, more people are at work, a feeling of greater confidence is evident. The improvement may be small and slow in developing, but it has started, and there are grounds for believing that it will continue and grow.

One of the strongest reasons for such faith and confidence is that men and women of good will everywhere are devoting their talents and lending their energies to the task of finding solutions for the problems which distress the world. Many weaknesses and evils in our economic and social structure have been pointed out, and many people, both men and women, now they are known, men and women of all classes and conditions are determined to remove them. People have been brought closer to one another in this year of adversity than could have been possible in the heyday of general prosperity. The further development of this greater usefulness is one of the opportunities which this new year presents to all.

The real promise of this new year rests with each of us as individuals. Notwithstanding what is said to the contrary, it is still as true as it ever was that man is largely the master of his own destiny. It is still within our power to make or mar our own lives, although it is also true that we influence and affect for good or ill the lives of others about us, and that, in turn, affect us. Granted that this is so, man can nevertheless counteract these influences and order his own way of life.

There was a time when people looked upon the Great War as a war to end war, but they now realize that fighting is not the way to end fighting; rather that the way to end fighting is to stop fighting; that the way to world betterment is not through some universal good, but through the overthrow of the existing order of things, but that the way is along paths of peace, of removal of evils, of progressive reforms, of strengthening and adding to the structure which has been erected and improved through all the experiences of the past, and so the realization is growing that it must be through the usefulness and individual merit and effort of the people themselves that each new year can and will be made better and happier than the one that went before.

The year 1934 has been given to us. What are we as individuals going to make of it? It is within our power, regardless of what world conditions may be, to make this new year a better, happier one so far as we as individuals are concerned than last year proved to be. Equally, we can, if we re-choose and act, make this year a decidedly less happy one for ourselves. It is, therefore, up to us as individuals to make our own lives for happiness in this new year come true, because happiness is a thing of the spirit and not merely of worldly possessions.

Locomotives' Beauty Bath

Canadian National Railway Has Automatic Apparatus For Work

A novel shower bath for locomotives installed by the Canadian National Railway washes them clean and leaves them with a smooth, wax-like "complexion." The secret is a huge washing frame, housing two high-pressure water sprayers through which water passes at a pressure of 140 pounds to the square inch. The whole outfit is automatic. As the engine approaches the frame, the front wheels close a low voltage electrical circuit and the water, containing a special soap compound, is turned on. As the wheels pass, the circuit breaks and the shower stops. All grease and dirt have been dissolved and washed away and a light film of wax is left on the locomotive, leaving it sparkling and span and smooth and bright.

Tonnage of idle ships throughout the world decreased 19 per cent. in the year ending July 1.

Wear Days—Sleepless Nights Wreak the Nervous System

Men and women too tight after night on sleepless hours. Their eyes do not close in the refreshing repose that comes to those whose nerves are right. They are irritable and nervous, weak and worn out, and everything looks dark and gloomy.

Milburn's H. & N. Pills is the remedy that is required to restore them to the blessing of good health. They bring back the sound refreshing sleep, tone up the nerves, and impart that sense of buoyancy to the spirit that is the result of renewed mental and physical vigor.

Intact Record Of History

Research Has Made Possible Complete Story Of Montreal

Montreal is probably the only city on the North American continent which possesses a complete and intact record of its history as far back as the early part of the 17th century.

This was made possible by the recent work of H. Z. Massicotte, entitled "Mémoria Historique de Montréal," which has just been published by the Royal Society of Canada. Mr. Massicotte has been archivist of this city for almost a quarter of a century, during which time he has contributed many valuable and interesting articles about the early history of Canada.

The treatise contains a complete and accurate record of the military, civil and religious authorities who governed the small island, in the great River St. Lawrence during the period between 1638 and 1760, and is the result of ten years of difficult research among the many scattered records dating back to that period.

Although this historical monograph is of great value to the historian and student of Canadian history, it is of a very interesting piece of literature.

Discover New Ray

New Device May Be Used For Neutralizing

A new ray, said to be capable of projecting bacterial emanations which will destroy humans, animals and crops, was described in a special article in the London Sunday Express. The article said the new scientific device could be used as well for neutralizing deadly rays than for creating them. It is the London Sunday Express.

Professor O. A. Newell, head of the research department of the National Health Laboratory, New York, said, has revealed some of the characteristics of the ray. It was described as "a wireless device made to imitate deadly rays which have been found in nature."

"Emissions of abnormal bacteria are taken from patients suffering from various diseases. These bacteria are sent out strong that in some cases they swing the needle of a galvanometer at ranges up to 45 feet." "The wave lengths of these emanations are then said to have been reproduced and sent out by wireless."

Start Mystery Excursions

Swedish State-Owned Railroads To Try Out

Sunday excursions by train "into the blue" that is with unknown destinations, will be tried in Sweden next summer, the management of the state-owned railroads has announced. Last summer low rate excursions to definite places attracted many extra travelers, each train carrying 500 in advance, and the new system is expected to attract even more. The advantage over the excursion trains is that the price is set in advance, and the new system is expected to attract even more. Felt Better Anyway

The slightly dead old sportsman, feeling a little run down, consulted a doctor, who, after a long examination, prescribed carrot and plenty of it. "How shall I take it?" "Any way you like and as much as you like." "A month later the patient returned in bursting health. "Captain," said the doctor, "carry on with the carrot." "The what, doctor?" "The carrot." "Carrot? Good Lord! I thought you said carrot. I've been drinking three bottles a day for the last four weeks."

In Terms Of Money

It is estimated by one source in Montreal, that the economic loss to the city by the depression is $11,000,000 in terms of money, or about $9,000,000 in terms of purchasing power after allowance has been made for change in the cost of living. The estimate is made on the assumption that the country might have continued the progress of the depression at a rate equal to the natural increase in population, about 1 1/2 per cent. annually under ordinary conditions.

H. C. Arthur, of Chester, England, has effected a 30th rescue from drowning. A seven-year-old boy, George Leathwell, overboarded and fell into the river, and Arthur, 62 years of age, jumped in and brought him to the bank. After first-aid the boy was taken home. Mr. Arthur is the holder of several life-saving awards.

RHEUMATISM GOES WITH EXCESS FAT

Both Banned by Kruschen

When one realizes that the cause of overweight is closely associated with the cause of rheumatism, it is easy to understand how it is that the two troubles can so easily be overcome by the same remedy.

The experiences told in the following letter are typical of those of many other sufferers.—"I first started taking Kruschen Salts for rheumatism in my ankle joints. Being rather stout, I thought perhaps they would remedy both troubles, and you don't realize how surprised I was with the effect. I don't feel anything of my ankles now. And not only that—my weight has reduced 19 lbs. in just three weeks. I am still reducing, and I at what I had and I feel a different woman in every way." (Mrs. B.)

But, surely, Kruschen diets the system of all fat-forming food refuse, of all poisons and harmful acids, which give rise to rheumatism, digestive disorders and many other ills.

New Highway Lights

Will Broadcast Music And Perfume Air Is Prediction

Highway lights made of aluminum, modeled after a morning glory, and reaching a height of 30 feet, were seen by Mr. J. McLean, George C. Squier, U.S.A., retired, in a paper read before the semi-annual session of the National Academy of Sciences at Washington, D.C., recently.

"The lights, which General Squier calls 'radio-lights,' not only will serve to illuminate highways, but will broadcast music and perfume, and amusement of passing motorists inasmuch as they will be equipped with sound-receiving sets and will have large amplifiers to disseminate programs picked up from the ether waves."

"Indirect lighting will illuminate the radiolite in fluorescent splendor after nightfall, while an entirely separate function is found in facilities for diffusing perfume through the air in the structure, or, if the occasion and need arises, insecticides."

General Squier, the army's chief signal officer during the war, inventor and shining light of Washington's state and solemn Metropolitan Police, made another prediction in a paper, saying that skyscrapers are a thing of the past and that "the maximum height (of buildings) likely will be less than a dozen stories" in the future.

Prohibition Statistics

More Revenue From Fines And Confiscation Than Cost Of Enforcement In U.S.

Prohibition statistics made public by the United States Department of Justice indicate that the government spent less on enforcement than it levied against dry law violators. The latest figures reported on Jan. 16, 1929, until Oct. 31, 1928, the department said, prohibition enforcement cost $1,010,029. Fines and forfeitures from convicted violators were placed at $83,307.12. The value of property confiscated was estimated at $219,302,464.

In contacts between officers and racketeers the department said 92 investigators were killed, while the number of persons held by agents aggregated 178.

Should Be Popular

Commenting on a new novel, the New York Sun's book reviewer says: "I cannot think of a single thing to recommend it and I can think of a dozen reasons to repudiate it. I don't. It is poorly written. It is without any sort of realism, literary or intelligence." In which case it is certain to be read by a great many persons say the Border Cities Star.

Where Law Is Elastic

Plenty Of Sense In Duke Of Athol's Argument About Lotteries

The Duke of Athol, in the magnificent disregard of British conventions, has announced that he will open for game or place, fined £25 recently for conducting a sweepstakes, told the House of Lords that the "hypocrisy" of the lottery laws was manifest, and said "the laughing stock of the civilized world."

The Duke of Athol used arguments familiar to Canadians who have considered the subject. A man with a bank account, he said, could back a horse and settle with the bookmaker. In the course, but if his servant handed in a shilling to back his favourite he was breaking the law. The Duke of Montrose contributed the thought that if the law were enforced strictly "more than half the vicars in the country" would go to jail for conducting raffish parties.

If Britain for these reasons is the laughing stock of the world—a statement which indicates that exaggeration—a warning has been issued in the past. In the past, the House of Lords—what shall we say of Canada?—permitted in the past, but held up our hands in horror at the thought of lotteries for charity or for government. The Duke of Montrose contributed the thought that if the law were enforced strictly "more than half the vicars in the country" would go to jail for conducting raffish parties.

It is not a subject to get excited about. There is a degree of hypocrisy in all humans, therefore in all governments, and we all do a good deal of head-burying on occasions. It is too much to expect logic in our common approach to problems which are so close to present conditions in morals. We fine a little shopkeeper for selling a candy bar on Sunday while the gasoline station attendant, a succession of cars for their Sunday trips, and if we want to look for hypocrisy we do not need to go abroad.—Ottawa Journal.

Will Benefit Cattle Trade

Extensive New Yards Opened At Tilbury Docks, London

Of decided advantage to the revived cattle trade between Canada and Great Britain, extensive new yards for the docking and handling of live cattle shipments were opened at Tilbury Docks, London, by Lord Ritchie, chairman of the Port of London Authority.

W. A. Wilson, of Canada House, representing the Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, speaking at the ceremony which followed the opening of a steamer was then en route with between 500 and 600 head of cattle. The new facilities would increase the capacity of the Canadian cattle industry, the shipping industry and the Port Authority, he added, and he hoped the Canadian cattle trade would continue to flourish as would prove of benefit to the meat trade.

Lord Ritchie declared the Port of London has been without a live cattle market for 20 years, all the more surprising as 70 per cent. of the chilled and refrigerated meat annually imported had been handled by the Port of London. He declared the new facilities would encourage handling of Canadian and Irish cattle.

J. W. Macnamara, Commissioner for the Free State, which ships a considerable quantity of cattle, said the new facilities could offer cattle a probably more free of disease than any other cattle in the world. "It is poorly written. It is without any sort of realism, literary or intelligence." In which case it is certain to be read by a great many persons say the Border Cities Star.

Shows His Magnificence

There are occasions when London shows the magnificence that one associates with those spacious days when Queen Victoria and Edward VII. reigned. One of these occasions is the reception which takes place at Londonderry House on the eve of a new season of Parliament, when the Overseas Mail. These are occasions, too, when all the precious gems of Arabian Nights splendor seem to appear, as by magic.

Alaskan Described As "Charming"

Alaska is just a dot on the map to most Canadians, but to H. Rev. A. L. Fleming, consecrated bishop of the new Anglican missionary diocese of the Arctic, it is the "Charming Cross of the Arctic."

The tiny settlement near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, whose resident population numbers scarcely 50 souls, is already "the trading centre of the western Arctic," said the former archbishop in an interview on the occasion of his elevation to the episcopate.

Waves of the Arctic Ocean have been seen from the Yukon and Alaska, he said. The bishop Fleming believes Alaska is a significant future. Already it has been used as a jumping point for flights to remote points in the Yukon and Alaska, he said. The bishop, he recalled, heard there is a route from the United States to Japan by airplane in 1932.

The new bishop, who became known as "the flying archbishop" for his aerial journeys across the northland to visit outposts of the church, outlined with enthusiasm the boundaries of his vast diocese.

Took Secret With Him

Inventor Of Compass Adjustment Dies Suddenly In Vancouver

Andrew Potheringham, 56, master mariner, died recently, possibly carrying to the grave secrets which might have revolutionized compass adjustment on board ships.

Nine years ago fearing the results of his strange becoming too well known in London, England, he came to Vancouver to conclude his life. He signed on as a deckhand on the "Venture," so that he might pursue his investigations, and collapsed and died while washing paint on deck just as he was believed to have reached success.

Friends say his invention had been tried out with success on several vessels on the Pacific Coast. He is said to have been able to adjust a compass so that it was true magnetically without further adjustment in any part of the world.

Britain Grows More Wealth

Increase In Acreage And Production In England And Wales

A big increase in wheat acreage and production in England and Wales during 1933 is shown in the preliminary statement of agricultural returns just issued.

Wheat acreage is shown at 1,660,000, an increase of 29 per cent. compared with 1932. Wheat production was estimated at $1,470,000 hundredweight, an increase of 9,588,000 hundredweight or 42 per cent. On the other hand, barley acreage decreased by 209,000 acres and the estimated production of 12,624,000 in 2,718,000 hundredweight below 1932.

defence of both teams was kept busy body-checking to stop the opponents' raids. Finally the Cardinals were rewarded when F. Mason, in front of the Indian net, received a perfect pass from C. Norton and gave Arrowwood the lead by one goal. From then on the game was a continual battle which broke into a "free-for-all" when "Ed Shore" Mason upheld his rights with one of the Miners, "Horne" Sharp was soon to the rescue, along with most of the spectators. The period ended with the score remaining 2-1 for the locals.

Throughout the game there was much slacking on the part of both teams.

Cardinals & Blackie 1

Playing on home ice, last Monday evening, the Cardinals took the Blackie team into camp for the second time by a score of 6-1. Due to the mild weather the game did not get under way until 8.30. Four 15-minute periods were played to partly overcome the handicap of soft ice.

The first period opened with both teams playing good hockey, Norton scored the only goal of the period for Arrowwood. E. Mason and S. Beagle, of the locals, and Ray or Blackie scored penalties.

F. Mason chalked up another goal in the second period for the Cardinals. This he soon followed up with a second, which he shot from the side of the ice. Ray Wellman found the Arrowwood goal for the Blackie team, scoring their only point of the game. Later in the period McCullough, assisted by Norton, scored the fourth goal for Arrowwood. Bob Oliver received the only penalty of this period.

The third period was scoreless. Both teams had several shots on goals, but were unable to score. McCullough scored his second goal of the game in the fourth period. R. Leslie soon scored the sixth goal for Arrowwood when he picked up the puck on a rebound at the Blackie goal. The Arrowwood defence proved very worthy in stopping many Blackie rushes. E. May and Berry were penalized in this period.

Much credit goes to Manager Jim Mackie for the capable way in which he is leading his men on to victory. R. E. Hales handled the bell and had perfect control of the game from start to finish.

Arrowwood used their regular line-up. The Blackie line-up was: J. Stier (goal), Gibson, Ray, Woodridge, T. Wellman, Berry, R. Wellman, M. Meyer, G. Anderson. Goals—Norton, F. Mason (2), McCullough (2), R. Leslie, R. Wellman.

Penalties—E. Mason, S. Beagle, Ray, Berry, Oliver.

Assists—Norton.

Referee—R. E. Hales.

MIDGETS

Gleichen 3; Arrowwood 3

The Midgets gave their first exhibition of hockey last Saturday, when they played the Gleichen Midgets in Gleichen. Peter Brown was outstanding for the locals, scoring 2 of the 3 goals. Vaughan Allan received a good pass in front of the net to make the third goal. Norton scored two for Gleichen, while Murray netted the third, making it a tie game. A return game will be played Saturday afternoon in Arrowwood.

can for examination, as it was feared she had glass in her eye.

Dr. Carson found the eyelid slightly cut, but no glass in the eye. A few minutes after above accident Mrs. P. H. Coleman fell just after leaving the Badminton Hall and hurt her arm, so was taken to Vulcan for X-ray, which showed the left arm broken just below the shoulder. Dr. Carson set it and Mrs. Coleman is around again with a very sore arm but able to continue her piano class work.

East Milo News

The East Milo Juniors held their last meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monner with thirty members present.

Four of the members took part in a debate, "Resolved that Public Health Should be as Free as Education." The affirmative was upheld by Chester Burk and Wilbur Monner. Three of the Juniors acted as judges and awarded their decision in favor of the negative.

At midnight Mrs. Monner served a dainty lunch. The meeting was closed by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

About twenty-five of the members took advantage of warm weather, to practice in the gym last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Williams will hold a bridge party at their home on Thursday evening, in aid of the piano fund.

The Junior U.F.A. will hold a dance in Pioneer School on Friday night. Everybody come and have a good time.

Clifford Hellevang left for Calgary on Saturday to continue his studies at the Institute of Technology and Art.

Last Sunday Hellevang's rink was the scene of much activity when many took part in hockey and pleasure skating.

Here and There

Twenty-nine men and seven women who pioneered Alberta trails died in the present year. All of them say the worst was when it was young, the west that existed before 1906. The current year marks the half century since the Canadian Pacific came to Calgary.

Sailing for New York December 24, the 4200-ton white-hulled Empress of Britain left on a Christmas and New Year's holiday cruise for the West Indies. December 22, returning to New York January 2 and sailing again January 4 for a 4½-month cruise around the world.

Among the "Believe It or Not" facts wellknown to the generosity of newspaper readers, may be added the statement of S. G. Hibben, of the Westinghouse Light Company, made recently in an address at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto that "today there are some 10,000 different kinds of artificial light sources."

Approximately 78,000 people own the Canadian Pacific Railway through the ownership of the company's common stock. Of these, 30,000 live in Canada. Of the balance, 21,000 live in other parts of the British Empire, most in England, with 16,000 in the United States and 5,400 in other countries, mostly continental Europe.

For the first time in western Canada, an impressive ceremony, the 40th anniversary of the Knights of St. John was held recently at the Hotel Vancouver, Vancouver when six British Columbian were admitted by King George, sovereign head of the order, to high honors. Old world costumes and strange rites added to the dignity and color of the proceedings.

Railways and their important functions in the economic existence of the State were stressed by G. G. Ommann, development commissioner of the Canadian Pacific Railway at the annual banquet of the Traffic Club of Hamilton recently. They had, he said, contributed materially to development of natural resources, building up of industries and in promoting land settlement and agriculture.

Railway and motor truck transportation are both essential to the economic wellbeing of Canada and neither should be antagonistic to the other, stated Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals, at a national conference on transportation held at Ottawa recently. But, he added, while railways are under strict regulation and control, motor truck service has not as yet been brought under any comparable control or regulation.

Arrowwood Has a Hockey Team to be Proud of Local hockey fans have recently turned their attention to the victories of the Cardinals. Under the management of Jim Mackie the Arrowwood hockey team has been launched on a successful season and unless serious handicaps are experienced, they will continue having brilliant victories to put to their credit, and the team, in neat, new uniforms, is giving this town a more prominent place in this popular sport, having subdued teams from larger towns. Coaches of the Arrowwood puck chasers deserve much credit in developing such a fast breaking team that has created a sensation among their followers. Arrowwood has a team to proud of and local support should be given them in their battle for supremacy.

Farm equipment must be efficient to reduce costs. The John Deere Tractor is economical because of its light weight, coupled with fewer but sturdier parts, completely enclosed and automatically oiled, this plus efficient fuel carburetion and low oil consumption reduces power loss to minimum.

Nurse—"Sit down Willie, and amuse your little sister. Tell her a story."

Willie—"I told Dad a story, now I can't sit down."
